The first of these is the fact that the system is not a simple one, but a complex one.
 It is a system of many parts, each of which has its own function, and all of which must work together in order to perform the overall function of the system. This is a very important point to remember, for it is the interaction of the parts that determines the behavior of the system as a whole.

The second point is that the system is not static, but dynamic. It is constantly changing, and its behavior is determined by the conditions under which it operates. This means that we must be able to adapt our understanding of the system to the changing conditions. This is a very difficult task, but it is one that must be done if we are to have any control over the system.
